

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An exposure apparatus includes a carrying member for carrying thereon a workpiece and a supporting mechanism having a magnet, for supporting a weight of the carrying member. A force to be applied to the magnet does not change with a shift of the carrying member along a plane perpendicular to a direction in which the weight is supported.